LOBBY INVESTIGATION IS NOW UNDER WAY

SIX WITNESSES CALLED BY SENATE COMMITTEE TODAY

TO TELL WHAT INFLUENCES WERE EXERTED TO AFFECT TARIFF SCHEDULES

HOPE TO GAIN INFORMATION ON MOVEMENTS OF ARMY OF PROPAGANDISTS

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—L. Koch, pottery expert of the United States tariff commission, told the senate lobby investigating committee today that William Burgess, legislative agent for the pottery industry, sought to get him discharged.

Koch had alleged indirectly there were irregularities in the writing of the pottery schedule of the pending republican tariff bill.

The government tariff expert told the committee the testimony he gave in a secret hearing before the house ways and means committee had been in some way found out by Burgess.

The hearing took place in the same room in the senate office building, where the famous Teapot Dome investigation was held. Questioning was led today by Senator Thomas J. Walsh, democrat, Montana, who conducted the Teapot Dome inquiry.

Many familiar faces were seen among the spectators including a number who are well known around Washington as "legislative agents" and who may come under the committee's microscope.

"Mr. Burgess sought to have me discharged on the ground that I gave biased and prejudiced testimony," Koch said.

The witness said he never made any recommendations to congressional committees regarding rates.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The celebrated lobby investigation opened before the senate judiciary sub-committee today when six witnesses were called upon to tell what influences were exerted to affect the writing of the sugar and pottery schedules of the pending republican tariff bill.

The witnesses were summoned when the committee received the private information indicating an extraordinary effort had been made to influence the action of congress on pottery rates, and committee members have hinted they expect to develop at the outset some salient facts about the mysterious movements of the secret army of propagandists here seeking to influence the actions of the national government.

The first witness, Frederick L. Koch, a pottery expert on the United States tariff commission who furnished the congress with statistics upon which to base its pottery rates, was to be asked whether any influences were exerted upon him.

Three other witnesses have been called in the same connection, William Burgess, a legislative agent for pottery interests, wool and electrical organizations since 1894 and formerly a member of the tariff commission; Chairman Thomas O. Marin, Massachusetts, chairman of the commission, and Edgar B. Brossard, Utah, commission member.

When this incident is developed the committee then will go into the sugar propagandists' activities, whose work has been more obvious than that of any others since the pending bill has been under consideration. In this connection, H. A. Austin, U. S. Beet Sugar Co., and H. C. Lakin, president, Cuba Co., New York City, have been called. Austin's organization wants a high sugar tariff while Lakin's has been seeking a reduction in rates.

Three other witnesses have been called but the name of only one has been divulged in accordance with the unusual precautions taken by the committee to prevent any outside interest from knowing what action they plan. The one known witness, H. R. Wylie, head of the China Company at Charleston, W. Va., furnished the committee with a physician's certificate stating he could not be present.

In the background yet to be summoned are members of the so-called social lobby who are supposed to influence the votes in congress by wily distribution of social favors.

There is also another class upon which the committee has its eye—the former members of congress, who have used the privileges of the floor of the house and senate to promote the interests of private employers.

A small and select audience of well known private Washington propagandists was on hand when the hearing opened shortly after 10 A. M.

MME. MARIE CURIE TO RECEIVE GIFT OF GRAM OF RADIUM

New York, Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—Mme. Marie Curie, noted woman scientist and co-discoverer of radium, arrived here today on the liner Ile de France to receive a gift of a gram of the precious substance and to be the guest of a number of admirers, including President and Mrs. Hoover.

Mme. Curie will be the guest of President and Mrs. Hoover at the White House Oct. 29 and 30. There $50,000 for a gram of radium will be presented her.

Sino-Russian Clash, 500 Chinese Are Drowned

BARE LEGS AND JAZZ DANCING ARE DANGEROUS

Gary, Ind., Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—Bare legs and jazz dancing are as dangerous as prohibition whisky, Prof. Raymond Schutz, sociologist of North Manchester college, declared here in exhorting delegates at the Indiana W. C. T. U. convention to campaign against these vices of the younger generation.

"I am convinced after careful study of the subject that no leg is beautiful enough to be bared to public gaze," the professor said. "Besides such exposure has a highly exciting effect."

"As to dancing, I find no reference to the fox trot or honey bun in the Bible and although David was said to have danced before the Lord, he didn't have a flapper for a partner."

PANTAGES' TRIAL JURY TO SOON HEAR DEFENSE EVIDENCE

ATTORNEYS REFUSED TO GIVE
NAMES OF THEIR WIT-NESSES

SAY, HOWEVER, THAT THE THE-ATER MAN WILL BE SURE TO TESTIFY

Los Angeles, Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—Some time today attorneys for Alexander Pantages will start to introduce the evidence which the millionaire theater man hopes will persuade a jury that he did not assault a 17-year-old girl who sought employment from him.

The state, asking that Pantages be sent to San Quentin for from one to 50 years for an alleged attack on Eunice Pringle, was expected to conclude its case within a few minutes of the opening of the session.

Rex Welch, county chemist, probably will be the prosecution's last witness.

Pantages' attorneys refused to name their witnesses. They said the theater man was certain to testify.

Pantages will contend that Miss Pringle "framed" him and that she hoped to collect from him part of the $20,000 he recently received from the sale of his theaters. He is expected to say that during the time he was alone with her she tore her own clothing and then screamed she was lured to his office and assaulted.

The courtroom was turned almost into a laboratory late yesterday as Welch brought in test tubes, microscopes and other instruments to show what he found in his various examinations of clothing and other articles turned over to him. His testimony upheld the girl's story of the alleged assault.

SCORES OF PASSENGERS MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPE SERIOUS INJURIES

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—Scores of passengers aboard Big Four train No. 15, New York-to-Cincinnati express, miraculously escaped injury today when the train ploughed through a switch at Elmwood Place, near here, and the locomotive and three coaches overturned.

William Thompson, fireman of the locomotive, was scalded to death and Engineer P. J. Maloney was burned so badly he may die.

The train was traveling at moderate rate of speed when it struck the switch. The engine ripped up the right-of-way for several hundred yards, then careened on its side, pulling the three coaches behind it into the ditch.

Thompson was pinned beneath the engine. Passengers were hurled from their seats but none was injured.

EXTRA FARE CHARGES TO BE INVESTIGATED

Washington, Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—The Interstate Commerce commission announced today its intention to investigate, upon its own motion, extra fare charges by passenger trains throughout the country in addition to the regular passenger and pullman fares and surcharges.

All railroads subject to the commission's jurisdiction will be covered by the inquiry which is to determine the fairness of extra fare charges.

$6,000,009 Farmers Cooperative Files Its Articles of Incorporation In State Today

TO WORK IN CONJUNCTION WITH FARM BOARD

NEW MARKETING ASSOCIATION TO ESTABLISH CREDIT TO FARMERS FOR LOANS

PARTLY THROUGH FEDERAL FARM BOARD, PARTLY ALONG
REGULAR BANKING LINES

St. Paul, Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—Articles of incorporation were filed here today with the secretary of state for a $6,000,000 farmers' co-operative through which mid-west agricultural interests will work in conjunction with the federal farm board.

Documents bringing the organization into existence have been signed, it was announced, by officials of the farmers' co-operative elevator association in Minnesota, Montana, North and South Dakota.

The new marketing association will establish credit to farmers for loans, partly through the federal farm board, and partly along regular banking lines. Leaders of the organization plan to completely dominate the movement of grain in the four states in which it will operate.

With the incorporation articles on file, members of the co-operative indicated the organization will be placed on a working basis within a few days. Directors and officers will be chosen within that time.

Plans have been completed to finance the association through the sale of 300,000 shares of stock at a par value of $20. Each share will carry a membership and voting power and sale will be restricted to grain farmers of the states involved.

Among the leaders of the executive officers will be A. J. Olson, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, it was said.

The four states will be divided in 10 districts, each with a director represented on the board. One director at large will bring the total officers to 41 and of these men 12 will be chosen to actively direct the affairs of the association.

The charter of the co-operative provides that the group may purchase all grain offered for sale to farmers' elevators and either market or store it. The produce will be let upon the market at times when the price is highest.

If at the end of the year a profit is shown between the purchase and sale price of the grain, it will be divided among members of the association on a pro-rata basis.

Motor Lorry in Crash; 2 Men Killed, 25 Injured

Trevi, Italy, Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—A motor lorry carrying a party of 33 persons, including the Podesta of Terviso, crashed into a rocky ledge while descending a steep road near Romano-Ezzelino today, killing two men and injuring 25 others. The brakes on the machine failed.

St. Paul, Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—The state railroad and warehouse commission today granted permission to Louis Lichy of Albany and Mike Bayer of Elrosa to open a motor truck freight line between Albany and Elrosa.

The line will run through Melrose, Meier's Grove, Greewood, Spring Hill and Lake Henry.

40 COLLEGE GIRLS HURT AS DORMITORY PORCH COLLAPSES

Blue Mountain, Miss., Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—More than 40 college girls were hurt, 17 seriously enough to be in hospitals today, when a dormitory porch collapsed last night as they cheered during freshman initiation festivities.

Several of the more seriously hurt had broken legs. None was in critical condition, hospitals here, at New Albany, Miss., and Memphis, Tenn., reported.

School authorities said the girls had gathered on the porch to watch freshmen initiations. The supports gave way when they jumped in giving a yell and they fell in a bunch.

The scene of merriment was turned almost instantly into one of panic as cries of terror and pain came from the horrified students.

The girls were taken from the debris of the porch to the hospitals. More than a score of others were given treatment for minor injuries.

"ROYAL ARMS OF GREAT ELEVEN"

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS OF CALI-FORNIA CULT BEING PROBED

Los Angeles, Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—An inkling of the financial affairs of the "Royal Arms of the Great Eleven" will be disclosed today when two high priestesses of the cult appear in municipal court for preliminary hearing on 14 counts of grand theft.

The women, Mrs. May Otis Blackburn and her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Wieland, were charged by Clifford J. Dabney, wealthy oil operator, with defrauding him of $40,000 invested on the asserted promise that a book called "The Sixth Seal" would be published and proceeds shared.

Nude dances in the hills, sacrificing of mules, purchase of sacred horses and the furnishing of a temple for the return of Christ to earth have been a part of the cult's reported activities.

The coroner's office had not completed its examination of the body of Willa Rhoads, 16-year-old priestess, which was preserved in ice and spices for four years after death awaiting resurrection.

PARDON BOARD REFUSES TO ACT ON ANY PARDONS

St. Paul, Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—Following out a reportedly more strict policy of forcing offenders to serve their full sentences, the Minnesota pardon board refused to act on any of 46 applications for pardon at its meeting Monday, it was reported today.

Among the appeals that failed to receive favorable consideration was that of Wilfred Mongeau, northern Minnesota resident who insisted he is serving a 20-year penitentiary term for a murder committed by his wife. Affidavits wearing the wife, now dead, confessed the killing were presented to the board.

The board failed to grant a single pardon, refused to consider several cases and reduced none of the sentences to the extent asked.

GOVERNMENT RESTS ITS CASE IN FALL TRIAL

STORY OF HARRY F. SINCLAIR'S
DEALINGS WITH FORMER SECRETARY PRESENTED

FALL IN COURT TODAY, SEEM-INGLY IN GOOD HEALTH

By HERBERT LITTLE
Washington, Oct. 15.—The government rested its case in the bribery trial of former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall shortly before noon today, after presenting evidence that Harry F. Sinclair, oil millionaire, had paid Fall $269,100 in a New Mexico ranch deal.

Mahon T. Everhart, Fall's son-in-law, testified to the Sinclair transaction after prosecuting attorneys had won the court's consent to introduction of this evidence although it has no direct bearing on the indictment under which the former cabinet member is being tried. The specific charge is that he received a $100,000 bribe from E. L. Doheny.

The prosecution sought by Everhart's testimony to "cast light on the motive" which induced Fall to accept money from Doheny while in charge of the government oil lands Doheny was seeking to lease, pointing out that the circumstances were somewhat similar in the Sinclair transaction.

Fall's lawyers immediately moved to dismiss the case.

The motion was denied and Gano Dunn, a New York engineer, was called at once to open the defense case. Defense lawyers expect to take three or four days.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Justice William Hitz today admitted in evidence at the bribery trial of Albert B. Fall, the story of Harry Sinclair's dealings with the former secretary of the interior.

The government offered the story of Fall's receipt of $230,500 in Liberty bonds from Sinclair and of Sinclair obtaining an oil lease from Fall and collateral evidence showing guilty knowledge and intent of Fall in his dealings with E. L. Doheny.

Fall got $100,000 in cash from Doheny, which the government contends was a bribe for the Elk Hills, Calif., naval oil reserve leases.

Defense Lawyer Frank J. Hogan, after a long objection, then denounced the speech made in the senate yesterday by Senator Heflin, democrat of Alabama, which characterized the trial as a "farce."

Justice Hitz replied all references to Heflin's speech were deleted from the one newspaper which the jury of four women and eight men was allowed to see.

Fall appeared to be in good health despite the attack of bronchial pneumonia from which he has been suffering. He braved a particularly cold day to come to court.

Kansas City, Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—The sound of a dentist's drill so unnerved Mrs. H. N. Reed as she was waiting her turn to get in the chair that she ran to a window and plunged eleven stories to her death here yesterday. She was the wife of a railroad employee.

De la Croix attended the meeting of the international bank committee on Monday and appeared to be in normal health.

PARTIAL BURNING OF LAHASUSU, MANCHURIAN TOWN

BOTH LAND AND NAVAL FORCES ARE ENGAGED IN ACTION

RUSSIANS USE 7 GUNBOATS AND
FOURTEEN AIR-PLANES

Harbin, Manchuria, Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—Confirmation was received here today of a Sino-Russian battle at Lahasusu on Friday which resulted in severe losses to both sides and the partial burning of the town.

Both land and naval forces were engaged. Some 500 Chinese soldiers were drowned in the Sungari river during the conflict in and around Lahasusu and three Soviet gunboats were reported to have been sunk.

In their attack on Lahasusu, the Russians were said to have used seven gunboats and 14 airplanes. The Russians covered the landing of their marines with a steady fire from the gunboats.

Hankow, Oct. 15.—Nationalist headquarters announced that heavy fighting has commenced near Loyang in Honan province between nationalist troops and rebellious forces. The Hankow area remains quiet.

London, Oct. 15.—The capture of Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang, powerful war lord of China who recently started a military movement against the nationalist government, was officially reported at Nanking today, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Shanghai.

Feng's troops started an offensive from Honan province last week and a government punitive expedition was launched against them. The Exchange Telegraph said the capture was made by Yen Hsian-shan.

The Exchange Telegraph dispatch said nationalist government officials previously had feared that Yen-Hsian-shan was likely to join the so-called reorganizationist forces.

Advices from Nanking said that Feng had been involved in fighting Tai Yu-Anfu, in Shansi province.

Tokio, Oct. 15.—The Soviet embassy stated today it had no knowledge of a Sino-Russian clash at Lahasusu, Manchuria, where 500 Chinese were reported to have been drowned last Friday.

The report, emanating from Mukden, said three Soviet gunboats were sunk during the engagement in which both land and naval forces were involved.

Mukden reported furthermore that Soviet forces numbering 2400 men and using artillery and airplanes succeeded in ousting Chinese from the city. The Chinese were declared to have been without artillery.

PREMIER MAC DONALD ON WAY TO CANADA

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald bade farewell to the United States today and prepared to depart for Canada.

The prime minister was to go to Reftory on the Canadian side of the border to meet Canadian officials and to lunch with them. From there he was scheduled to entrain for Toronto for a brief stay.

In making his farewell speech to the American people MacDonald said: "As I sleep across the border and leave you for the moment I do so rich with proofs that while the Atlantic ocean divides us the cause of peace unites us. That is the message from you which I am taking back with me to Great Britain."

"I appreciate everything. I appreciate the treatment accorded me privately and publicly, by the congress and by the senate. It is impossible to mistake the meaning of your cordiality."

BELIEVE ESCAPED MEN AIDED BY THEIR FRIENDS

St. Cloud, Minn., Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—Belief that they were aided by friends in their escape from the "escape proof" Stearns county jail was increased here today as no trace was reported of Joseph Hendricks and Leo C. Humbert, Minnesota bank bandit suspects.

Sheriff E. E. Schoener pointed out the m-n probably spent a week in sawing their way through the bars and walls of the window with hack-saw blades provided by friends. When they finally gained freedom Friday night they probably were spirited away in a motor car, it was said.

Schoener and others held to the belief the fugitives were taken to either Minneapolis or St. Paul where they found refuge with friends.

Humbert was waiting trial on charges of robbing the First State bank of Meier Grove and Hendricks was held in connection with the holdup of the St. Michael State bank.

NINTH FEDERAL RESERVE BANK BUSINESS REPORT

UNUSUALLY LARGE MOVEMENT AND SALE OF GRAINS DURING AUGUST

CAUSES LARGE INCREASES IN SEVERAL BUSINESS RECORDS FOR THAT MONTH

Minneapolis, Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—The unusually large movement and sale of grains and other farm produce during August caused large increases in several business records for that month, according to a report issued here today by the ninth federal reserve bank.

The financial index published with the report declared that the cash value of grains and potatoes marketed in September was only 40 per cent as large as that of the same month last year.

Other business indications were scheduled to show that general business in the district was larger in volume than in 1928. Debits to individual accounts in 17 Minnesota banks were given as 11 per cent larger than last year.

In addition, building permits and contracts, lined product shipments and postal receipts showed an increase over 1928. All freight car loadings in the northern section of the state fell off 2 per cent in northern Minnesota during the month, however.

The bank report showed an increase over September, 1928, but a decrease from August of this year. The debits, it was explained, are checks against the depositors' accounts and thus represent payments.

Among the banking communities covered in the report were:

Little Falls—$1,241,000 debits to individual accounts in September last; $1,257,000 in August last; $815,000 in September, 1928; $1,044,000 in August, 1928.

St. Cloud—$427,000 debits to individual accounts in September last; $474,000 in August last; $375,000 in September, 1928; $390,000 in August, 1928.

Detroit Lakes—$115,000 debits to individual accounts in September last; $1,084,000 in August last; no record for August and September, 1928.

INDICTING PURCHASER AS WELL AS SELLER OF LIQUOR IN CASES

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—Judge Charles L. Dawson instructed his federal grand jury here today not to hesitate in indicting the purchaser as well as the seller of liquor if evidence warranted.

Judge Dawson said it was not the laboring man nor the heavy drinker but it is the so-called good citizen that forms the obstacle to prohibition. They should pass a law making buying of liquor as much of an offense as selling it, he said.

INQUIRY INTO AIR MAIL RATES, ROUTES

Washington, Oct. 15.—(U.P.)—As a part of the administration program for reorganizing the air mail service on a more stable rate structure, President Hoover has instituted an exhaustive inquiry into air mail rates and routes, it was announced at the White House today.

AITKIN FESTIVAL FEATURES PAGEANT

County to Celebrate Completion of Court House October
17, 18 and 19

At a three-day jubilee celebrating the completion of a new court house to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 17 to 19 inclusive, the major entertainment will be a historic pageant, "Builders of Aitkin County," which will be produced all three evenings at the Aitkin Armory.

Willard Dillman of Excelsior, a nationally known producer of amateur theatricals, has been engaged to take charge of staging the event, and has written the play which will be interpreted entirely in pantomime. Mrs. Hughes of Minneapolis is coaching the cast of 200 people who will take part. Many of the cast are representatives of old pioneer families, and they will portray in some instances the advent of their ancestors in the community while a number of the older pioneers themselves will also have leading roles and there will be a series of ballet dances by school girls, interpretative dancing and mood musical accompaniment. Costumes will be furnished by the producing company.

On Friday afternoon, Governor Theodore Christianson is scheduled to give the dedication address in front of the new court house, and the dedication ceremony will take place at that time. Many honor guests have been invited, and they will form an escort to the governor at that time. Among these honor guests will be Mayor William F. Kunze, of Minneapolis, who comes at the personal in-itation of Mayor E. A. Weisbeck of Aitkin. Other mayors have also been invited, and there will be other prominent guests.

On Friday afternoon there will be a big street parade, carrying out the theme of the pageant, and depicting the progress made since Aitkin was a frontier lumbering community. All three days, there will be other free street entertainment. Among these will be Harris' animal acts. The principal business streets of Aitkin are to be colorfully festooned with bunting and flags, and row upon row of colored lights will be suspended overhead. An expert decorator has been engaged to superintend and provide the street decorations at great expense. Stores will decorate their windows and fronts. A number of stores have sent to wholesale houses for very elaborate decorations.

Two or three bands and musical organizations will contribute to the entertainment. "All former residents of Aitkin residing elsewhere are especially invited to attend this homecoming event," says Sheriff Carl S. Lind, who is chairman of the executive committee, "and friends from elsewhere will be given a cordial welcome. Get in touch with the welcoming committee or any Aitkinite upon your arrival and join the merry-making throngs on one, two or three days of the festival."

Aitkin-Lake post of the American Legion is taking a foremost part in sponsoring this all-county event, with all other civic organizations and many individuals co-operating in helping to put over the affair in a way that will never be forgotten by any one who attends.

County officers of Crow Wing county have received a special invitation to attend the jubilee. Many have signified their intentions of attending on October 18.

Rev. C. M. Brandon rector of the St. Paul's Episcopal church, Brainerd will portray a leading role in the pageant, that of a young missionary who came to Aitkin in its earliest days.

From the Daily Dispatch

October 15, 1904

The Windsor hotel, South Seventh street, has been undergoing extensive repairs and remodeling. Steam heat has been put in, the rooms have all been repainted and repaired and it has been fitted up in first class shape in every way. It is lighted by electricity and has all modern improvements and will be kept open day and night. Mr. Starritt is landlord.

Dr. J. A. Thomas left this afternoon for Wadena to attend the meeting of the Upper Mississippi Valley Medical society.

P. J. McCormick, formerly with C. P. McLean, has leased the saloon formerly occupied by J. Crawley and will open about the 22nd of this month.

Mrs. Helen Glemaker, wife of Rev. N. P. Glemaker of the Swedish M. E. church passed away last evening after a lingering illness. She had been married only a year, but had made her home in Brainerd for the past five years, with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Floberg.

News was received in the city this morning of the sudden death of Treasurer E. P. Welles of the Brainerd Lumber Company, at his home in Minneapolis. He was taken with a stroke of apoplexy and died instantly. Flags have been placed at half mast at the mill in the city and it is likely the mill will be closed down on the day of the funeral.

Mrs. I. W. Rathbone left today for her home in Missoula, Mont. She has been the guest of relatives in the city during the summer.

Dr. O. T. Batcheller left this afternoon for Wadena.

Frank Poetz of the H. P. Dunn & Co. emporium, left today for Gull Lake for a few days outing.

The high school dancing party at Walker hall tonight will be one of the pleasant social events of the season.

Scenes at the opening of "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu" depict the defense of the British Legation in Peking against the rebelling boxers. The action scenes are remarkable. With this background, the story follows the vengeful career of the fanatical Dr. Manchu, his wily machinations which bring a beautiful girl into his clutches and his attempts to force her to work his will against the enemies.

More and More Colds Treated Externally

Growing Demand for Vicks VapoRub
Compels Another Increase in Famous Slogan

A generation ago, when Vicks VapoRub was originated, the idea of treating colds without "dosing" was almost unheard of. Today more and more colds are treated externally, and the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing".

As a result, the demand for Vicks has increased so rapidly that it is again necessary to change its familiar slogan. First announced when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Used Yearly," this famous slogan was raised to "21 Million" a short time ago. Once more the figure has been outgrown, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly" in the United States alone.

Mothers of young children especially appreciate Vicks, because there's nothing to swallow and, of course, nothing to upset delicate stomachs, as "dosing" is so apt to do. Just rubbed on, this modern vaporizing ointment acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster, and at the same time it gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the inflamed air passages.

Year after year the popularity of Vicks has spread all over the world until it is now the family standby for all colds—adults' as well as children's—in more than 60 countries.

Paper Money Has Value! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

An ancient prejudice nursed the ignorant fear and distrust of paper money. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE inspires the faith which completely accepts the printed obligation. In the interest of convenience and safety, its use is universal.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Northern Pike and Pickerel

SOMEBODY has started an argument in the Twin Cities on what is the difference between northern pike and pickerel. As far as we are concerned in the Brainerd Lake Region, using the name northern pike seems to give the fish higher class than dubbing him just a plain pickerel.

Some of our own sportsmen raise their eyebrows at the mention of pickerel, as though the fish were not of the elect. Many a fisherman is glad to catch pickerel when the real pike are not biting and pickerel means fish to any visiting tourist. The meat is good, but the bones are fine and plentiful.

Fishermen in our Brainerd Lake Region distinguish between the humble pickerel and their version of a northern pike. The pickerel's meat has a creamy, yellow tinge and that of the northern pike is pink and firm and has a striped red tinge on top.

The fin of a pickerel has no red tinge. That of the northern pike is black tinged with red.

The pickerel is at its best in winter time, speared through the ice, when the meat is firm and cold. In warm weather, however, the meat is very soft and it is hard to skin a pickerel.

The pickerel has a long pointed nose. The northern pike has a short, stubby, black nose on the order of a muskellunge.

However, scientifically speaking, pickerel and northern pike are probably classed as just pickerel.

After many arguments which did not convince skeptics that there is a difference, so far as Minnesota pike or pickerel are concerned, H. P. Keller, who has a lake cottage on Cullen and is also championing the cause of adequate lake levels in his territory, asked Thaddeus Surber, superintendent of fish propagation for the game and fish department, for an opinion.

The specialist replied that "the name 'northern pike' is only another name for our pickerel (Esox lucius). This particular species is found over the entire northern hemisphere and in this country is called by various names such as great northern or northern pike, northern pickerel, jackfish and occasionally muskellunge.

"For a long time it was thought that the little pickerel or trout pickerel was found in this state, but no specimens of it have been obtained in recent years. There are none now in existence in any collection and therefore I am doubtful if we have more than the one species of pike or pickerel in this state, exclusive of the muskellunge."

Ball Game Humor

SOME real ball game humor, of the kind we dub unconscious humor, may be gained if one reads the Cubs' manager and other writers' stories on what the Cubs were to do to the Athletics when the series started. The only trouble is that many of us do not save the files of a daily paper and so cannot remember the wonderful forecasts "doped" out by the Chicago crowd.

News reports mention a total of three deaths of fans at the radio who expired during the seventh inning and the ninth inning of the last two games.

William V. Turcotte saw the teams in action at Chicago and said the Cubs played like a kid team. That memorable seventh inning sounded just like one of our water tower backlot games, insofar as the Cubs were concerned.

Whoever heard of a team trailing eight innings 2 to 0 on the short end, a Cub pitcher working splendidly, mates fielding good, everything going good until the Athletics, evidently spurred on by a wave of Connie Mack's score card, tearing into the Chicago lams and slaughtering the whole outfit with a quick, sure, deft hand which roused even President Hoover and his party from studied neutrality and caused them to "yell their heads off" for the Mackmen.

The most dangerous man to fight is the man who doesn't know when he is "licked." By all the rules of the game Malone should have pitched the Cubs to victory. For eight innings the Athletics seemed to be humbly eating out of his hand. Came the ninth frame and in the flash of an eye the trouble started. Chicago lost the game and the Athletics won the series.

When Lindbergh Landed

ONE of young Bill White's high spots on his tour of south Europe this summer:

Hearing Jed Kiley, American newspaper man in Bandol, tell about Lindbergh's landing in Paris. He was out at Le Bourget Field waiting, and everybody had started to go home when the big amplifiers over the field announced to the crowd, "Keep quiet, we think we hear a plane." Everybody stopped talking and sure enough, there was a buzz high over head. They switched off all the lights, and turned on the big floodlights over their field, and the plane came down. Kiley said everyone had given up hope, including himself, but he ran over to the plane anyway, although he thought it was some dumb barnstorming aviator from Belgium who had lost his way. When he got close enough to see "Spirit of St. Louis" painted on the plane's side he was so excited he stumbled and fell down in the grass of Le Bourget Field. He reached the plane before the propeller had stopped, and was the first one to jump up on the wing. A tall, skinny, blond guy stuck his head out of the cockpit and said, "Hey, do you speak English?"

"Yeah," gasped Kiley.

"Well, Lindbergh is my name. Is this Le Bourget?" (He gave it the American pronunciation.)

"Yeah, that's right," said Kiley. The blond fellow grinned.

"Gee, that's nice," he said.—Kansas City Times.

ROMMEL, pitching only an inning in the Saturday world series game, is credited with being the winning pitcher. The sun is offered as an alibi for defeat of the Cubs in that colorful seventh inning when the hitting of the Athletics sounded like the rattle of machine guns.

A WRITER, Carl van Doren, makes the crazy assertion that one has to be a little crazy to write books.

As old Pop Anson said, no ball game is over until the last man is out.

ST. CLOUD TECH SWAMPS BLUE AND WHITE GRIDDERS FRIDAY, 33 TO 0BRAINERD UNABLE TO SCORE WITH PASS ATTACK ON WET TECH FIELD

Brainerd high's hopes for at least a share in the eleven district football championship were given a severe jolt last Friday afternoon when an aggressive St. Cloud Tech team swept to a 33 to 0 victory. Brainerd was outplayed from start to finish by Nichols' men who showed plenty of power in the pinches and took advantage of every break.

St. Cloud used to an advantage its unbalanced line on punt formation with cut-backs, spinners, reverses, all coming or forming off this style of play. It looked as though the Blue and White were standing on watching the methods of their opponents' attack rather than playing "heads-up" football and pouncing on some of those frequent fumbles. The team was considerably disheartened when St. Cloud recovered one of Brainerd's fumbles in the early moments of play and from then on the crushing tide seemed to come their way. Other times the Brainerd team buckled down and held St. Cloud in their tracks, showing that the old Blue and White had fight, but somehow they couldn't hit their stride. The game was a sloppy affair, mud puddles being scattered about the field to enable some ambitious player to get a mud bath free of charge.

Although these last two games are non-conference and do not affect the conference record which is to date a tie and a win, they will leave a black mark on the Blue and White's standing for the year 1929.

STAFF MEMBERS FORM
PROOF READING CLASS

Under the supervision of Ross Olmsted, an experienced proof reader, and with the generous cooperation of the Brainerd Daily Dispatch, a proof reading class has become a certainty. For the first time in the history of this high school, Brainerdians who care to do so are given theoretical and practical instruction in the art of proof-reading.

Double proofs are made by the Dispatch, one set of which are given to the members of the class for practical purposes at their meetings. On Tuesday morning, during the third and fourth periods, members are called upon to read and correct proof of copy used to fill Brainerdian columns.

Members do not only find this interesting and useful work but also to observe details and to become more versatile in the newspaper profession. (toin shrdul emw yfcmfwy bgkq aoi etain shrdul emfwyp vbgkq vbgkq nioate uldrhs pywfme jkgbvx xzfififi)

Brainerd's history fans do not need to travel far to view scenes of historical interest, for Crook Wing county and the adjacent territory is rich in spots of this sort.

There is the one we see every day—the "Last Turn" Saloon—diagonally across the street from Nash-Finch. There was formerly a pine tree in front of the saloon, which served as a gallows for two redskins who murdered a white girl at Fort Ripley. The lynching took place in 1872.

Although this is probably the only one in the city, there are many outside, and one of these of great interest is the site of old Crow Wing, our predecessor as county seat. There were one hundred inhabitants in 1856, but the building of the Northern Pacific railroad killed the growth of the city, and there isn't a single building of the original village left. The one house now there is of a much later date.

The site of the old Indian agency on Crow Wing river was established about 1850 and lasted twenty years. This agency was established for the Gull Lake and Pillager Indians, and was once the most important agency in Minnesota. It was the center of the threatened Chippewa outbreak, led by Chief "Hole-in-the-Day." There is nothing left of the place except the holes where the buildings were.

The location of the first mission in northern Minnesota is at St. Colombo on the east shore of Gull Lake. It was established by Rev. Lloyd Brock of the Episcopal church in 1852.

NOTICE

In the next issue of the Brainerdian the long awaited announcement of the Brainerdian staff positions will appear. In recent instances the positions will be the same as in the past but in a few cases changes will appear. These positions will be announced until the assignments are made again near the close of school.

Octette Reorganizes
With Two New Members

As a result of a meeting held last Tuesday in the old court house, two new members were selected for the Octette to fill the places of Ellen Berglund and Dorothy Schrader who graduated last year. Margaret Prentice successfully tried out for first soprano. Hylda Dybbick was the other member chosen. She was awarded the place of second soprano.

After the tryouts were over the new octette practiced a few songs and Miss Riekard stated that she intended to make a trip to the Cities for the purpose of picking out new songs.

The same type of uniform will be worn this year as was last. Practice will be held in the evening. The new octette as it stands now consists of: Kathryn Sheets, Margaret Prentice, Hylda Dybbick, Clara Grimstad, Edith Frost, Elmira Christenson, Virginia Rowland and Hattie Zawadzki. The pianist for the group is to be Arlene Hagberg.

YE EDITOR

The question has often arisen why the Brainerdian does not publish a paper of its own. In answer to this question we give several distinct reasons. First, in having the paper printed in The Dispatch the Brainerdian is given a circulation far in excess of any strictly student publication and the school news therefore reaches the parents as well as students. Next, the cost of a separate paper is such that the subscriptions alone do not cover the cost and the rest must be made up by advertisements solicited from the city's merchants. As it is now, the merchants are only approached once a year for the annual. As the cost of the Brainerdian weekly is low, more money can be spent on the annual and a bigger and better annual is the result. Another point in favor of the Brainerdian is the fact that it is published weekly and not monthly or bi-monthly as most student publications are. The news is therefore timely and of more interest to the parents and students.

STUDENTS MEMORIZE
CICERO SELECTIONS

Parts of first oration against Cataline were memorized by the students of Miss O'Brien's class last week. The selections were supposed to be given with all the gestures of the original but due to concentration on the subject most of these were left out. Stuart Patterson served very effectively as Cataline when he sat dejectedly in a remote seat in the senate. Each of the senators when Cataline came in rose and moved away from the section where he sat.

STUDENT SCIENTISTS
STUDY LATE INVENTIONS

Booklets containing many pictures of modern inventions which work by the use of air pressure, constitute the main item of work taking place in the general science classes of B. H. S. Some of the inventions they used are: aeroplanes, ships, wind mills and vacuum cleaners.

The aeroplane seems to be the chief topic of discussion. A very good model was made by Alfred Menz.

PICTURES OF SENIORS

"Hold that pose for one moment please, after which you may retain your natural position," are the comforting words Mr. Darcy of the Darcy studio will give to the Seniors who report this week and before the first of November. The Seniors coming up after that date will be obliged to pay more for each dozen pictures to have these few words said to them.

The group pictures of all the other classes will be taken the early part of this week and also club pictures some of which may be taken in the studio. Getting these pictures in will help reduce the cost of the annual this year so all the Seniors and others are asked to get them in soon as possible.

The Herf-Jones company, from which the Seniors are getting their rings, is giving the class a very fine plaque. This plaque is of mahogany with a golden emblem on it and beneath this is the year the class graduated, this will hang in the new building. All rings may be ordered at once through Mr. Burnett.

If you are interested in Brainerdian Annual art work, report at Miss Tornstrom's office in the Old Court House tomorrow immediately after school.

ATTY. FULLERTON GIVES SPEECH AT COMMERCIAL CLUBSTUDENTS PRESENT SKIT, "THE DON'TS OF TYP-ING"

"The thing that impressed me most while on a visit in Europe was the courtesy of the London people," stated City Attorney D. H. Fullerton when addressing the Commercial Club at their regular monthly meeting which was held Wednesday evening in the assembly at the City Hall. Mr. Fullerton gave a very interesting talk on his visit to the English Courts and places of historical interest. He also crossed the English Channel by airplane and visited the home of Shakespeare.

Rose Gudmanson, newly elected president, presided at the meeting. After the discussion of pins and collection of dues, a short program was presented which consisted of a piano solo by Arlene Hagberg. Her music is widely known, which was shown by the applause given her.

The next number was a reading, The Life of Lola Williams, by Helen Untereker.

Twelve first-year typing students presented a clever skit showing the "Don'ts of Typing."

Miss Tornstrom, principal, talked to the club members on "What is Expected of the Students by the Business Men." She stressed the following points: health, responsibility, preparation, personal qualities, accuracy, determination and vocabulary.

Evelyn Fink gave two very pleasing vocal solos accompanied by Rose Gudmanson. The true qualities of her voice were brought out in the selection, "The Vagabond Lover."

The club was then led by Miss Ruthe, accompanied by Arlene Hagberg, in community singing.

The refreshment committee served light refreshments after the program consisting of ice cream and cake.

SOPHS PLAN FROLIC
UPON RECEIPT OF DUES

The question of dues was the main issue discussed at the Sophomore meeting held in the old court house assembly last Tuesday. After much discussion the dues were placed at 50c per year.

After the problem of dues was settled the president suggested a picnic and the class decided to have one as soon as sufficient dues were collected. Sophomores who do not pay their dues will be barred from all social activities of the class.

Harold Molstad Reigns
Over Upsala Students

Harold Molstad, class of 1924, is now the principal of the Upsala high school. The New Whistler of Upsala says of him: "We find his presence before the seniors in physics, seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen in business methods one and two and before the sophomores in biology. He is also our football and basketball coach."

Other than these little things mentioned above, he seems to have nothing to do.

ALUMNI

Luella Shaeffer and Elvira Benson spent the week-end in Minneapolis.

Miss Ruth Schwartz spent the week-end at the home of her parents here. Miss Schwartz is attending the St. Scholastica College in Duluth.

Miss Marjorie Oberst who is attending the St. Scholastica College in Duluth spent the week-end in Brainerd.

ROTARIAN BANQUET FOR TEACHERS
SET FOR WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 23

NOTICE TO PARENTS

Report cards are out today. Parents are asked to study these cards carefully, to sign them and to have students return them tomorrow. If pupils are failing, parents may consult the teacher of the subject, who is at all times willing to co-operate in order that every boy and every girl may have his or her chance to make good. Oftentimes difficult paths may be made smooth if parents, pupils and teachers understand each other.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS ELECT
OFFICERS AT MEETING

Camp Fire girls elected officers for the ensuing six months at their last business meeting, October 7. They are:

President—Mardelle McGaffigan.
Vice President—Mary F. Graham.
Treasurer—Marie Erdmann.
Secretary—Margaret Casey.
Scribe—Clara Grimstad.
Song Leader—Lucille Wrobel.

The group, under the guardianship of Miss Haug hiked to Ahrens' hill last Monday afternoon. Though it was a cool day, their spirits were not chilled by the weather.

A candy sale was held at the old court house recently. Plans are being formed for further means of earning money, which will be needed for Camp Fire expenditures.

EXCHANGE

Imagine the Exchange Editor's surprise and delight when she received a paper from Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, published by the Thirty-Fifth Infantry. It is called the "Cacti" which is a mimeographed booklet, with fourteen pages. It also has a very delightful hand-painted picture on the cover.

The paper indicates that the Infantry must be very interested in football. In all the "Cacti" is a wonderful paper. Let's all co-operate like the Infantry, watch for news and hand it in to the Brainerdian.

The Pine Tree Post, Bemidji high school paper, celebrated its third birthday September 11, and like all students, it goes planning forward to make its way.

OBERT BENSON TO LEAD
SEMPER PARATUS CLUB

Obert Benson, senior, is the new president of the Semper Paratus club. He was elected to that office at a meeting held last night in the city hall.

Officers to assist him in conducting the affairs of the organization for the year are:

Vice President—Alice Nolan.
Secretary—Stuart Patterson.
Treasurer—Helen Untereker.

The club will meet every third Thursday of each month, according to the decision made by the members.

Senior Hi-Y to Assist
In Remodeling "Y" Room

Remodeling of the club rooms and the raising of the club's membership were the chief problems discussed at the Senior Hi-Y weekly meeting at the Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday night.

The boys decided to help the girls of the Tri-Hi in remodeling the club rooms in the Y. M. C. A. with curtains, arm chairs, rugs, tables, club signs, et cetera, and these with the help of the radio will make the room one of the most up-to-date meeting places of school organizations.

On account of the increasing popularity the club has decided to raise the membership from 25 to 30 members which is very encouraging for the Y. M. C. A.'s clubs.

ART STUDENTS MEET TO PLAN FOR ANNUAL

A meeting of all students interested in the artwork for the annual was held last Wednesday afternoon with Miss True, art supervisor, in charge.

After a brief but concise outline of the year's work Miss True suggested that the budding da Vincis sketch ideas for the panels and designs in a colonial motif. The next meeting will be held tomorrow night and all students who have artistic ability and are in annual work are urged to be present.

A grapefruit is merely a lemon which has been influenced by reading success magazines.

Nothing beats an old fashioned thunderstorm for finding things lost under the bed.

The professor who comes 20 minutes late is very rare. In fact he is in a class by himself.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR AN-NUAL BANQUET AT RAN-
FORD HOTEL

Since the organization of the Brainerd Rotary club, some eight years ago, the club has annually entertained and welcomed the teachers of the various schools of the city. This year the banquet is scheduled for Wednesday, October 23.

The evening starts with a dinner at the close of which there is a program, participated in by teachers and Rotarians. They strive each year to introduce new stunts.

One year the Rotary committee provided a unique form of entertainment by having table fireworks. This proved to be a real surprise due to premature explosions, to the committee as well as to everyone who ventured within range of the "bursting bombs."

The Rotary committee this year is composed of William A. Spencer, chairman, and Messrs. Earl Draper, William Graham, A. G. Trommald and Ralph Ferrand.

Last year the dinner was given in the Iron Exchange hall, and was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star. This year it will be held at the Randolph Hotel. It is very seldom that teachers are obliged to walk, as a committee on transportation provides cars.

ORCHESTRA PRACTICING FOR COMING OPERETTA

Weekly practices by the Brainerd high school orchestra are now being conducted every Monday night by Miss Riekard, music supervisor. Hard work on the part of the members will make it possible for them to appear in public especially for the operetta which is now being contemplated.

Some mention of a drum and bugle corps has been made at the regular meeting but so far, nothing has materialized. However, it is possible that a corps may be organized.

BIOLOGISTS DELVE INTO LIFE OF LOWLY INSECTS

Posters, scrapbooks and drawings depicting the various stages in the life of insects have been turned in to Miss Laipille by the biology students as their weekly project.

Next week the study of crayfish will occupy the time of the students.

The Brainerdian takes its hat off to:
1. The city hall and the old court house for holding so many students.
2. The school board who were instrumental in providing a new building for us.
3. To the people of Brainerd for making the building possible.
4. To the teachers for giving us such good marks.
5. To Miss Tornstrom for preparing the report cards upon which sail marks were recorded.

WORLD SERIES STARTED MEDIOCRE, ENDS DRAMATICALLY

7 COLUMN-SPORTS

NO WRITER COULD HAVE FORESEEN CLIMAX

MACKMEN SWEEP TO VICTORY OVER THE CUBS IN THE FINAL INNING.

30,000 FANS SPELLBOUND IN THE THROES OF WILD
DELIRIUM

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

Philadelphia, Oct. 15. — The world series is over, and the Philadelphia Athletics are world's champions.

What started out to be the most mediocre of these October baseball engagements ended most dramatically.

No writer of fiction could have imagined the climax in which the Mackmen swept to victory over their rivals, the Chicago Cubs.

After winning two hollow victories in Chicago, the new world's champions made their first appearance in a world series on their home grounds in 15 years, and were soundly beaten. They won the fourth game of the current series by the most spectacular rally in the history of baseball, but still they were up against a game, fighting ball club.

In the fifth and final game of the 1929 world series, the Athletics went into the ninth inning trailing by two runs, opposed by Pat Malone, a pitcher who had left them down with two hits until that time, allowing but one man to reach second base.

Then the fireworks were touched off, and before the clamor of the crowd was stilled and the battle of base hits at an end, the Mackmen had scored three runs, hammering out a most sensational victory and winning the decisive game, 3 to 2, and the championship of the world to boot.

Never before has a world series finished with such a touch of drama. The better ball club won, but in a manner which had 30,000 fans, including President Herbert Hoover, spellbound in the throes of delirium.

Facing apparently insurmountable odds, the Chicago Cubs had gone out and built up a convincing two run lead through the first eight innings. Two runs are not many as ball games go these days, but with Pat Malone setting the Athletics back on their heels in the ninth, it was dolars to doughnuts that the National League champions would win the fifth game.

When Art French, who used to carry footballs across the chalk-lines for West Point, struck out to start the last half of the ninth, the fans started to leave Shibe Park. When Max Bishop scratched a single over third base, it looked like one of those accidents which crop up in the national pastime to mar a practically perfect performance.

And then "Mule" Haas caught ahold of a fast one, low and inside, and drove it on a line over the right field fence, tying the score.

Pat Malone is a pitcher whose best attribute is courage. His fast breaking curve, which had turned back the A's in the eighth, was one thing, but his heart was as big as a lion's.

"Let me go. I'll get 'em," he told the anxious board of strategy which gathered about him.

Malone forced Mickey Cochrane, who bats third for Philadelphia, to roll out to Rogers Hornsby, and it seemed as though the worst that had happened was that the Athletics had tied the score.

But then Al Simmons slapped a two base hit up against the right field score board. Still Malone seemed to have the game in hand. There was a further consultation of the Cubs' board of strategy, and it was decided to pass Jimmy Foxx and work on "Bing" Miller.

This may have been grand strategy, but it ended the world series. With a count two and two, Miller, once a Mack cast-off, hit to right center, and Al Simmons came dancing and prancing home with the winning run.

The fans went wild. President Hoover stood and clapped his hands. The Mackmen rushed to carry the man who had delivered the winning punch off the field on their shoulders.

By winning the fifth game in just this dramatic manner, the Athletics became champions of the world of baseball. Considering the series as a whole, they had earned the award. But the drama of the last two games saved the 1929 series from mediocrity.

"Rube" Walberg, the southpaw pitcher, who entered and finished the fifth and final game after Howard Ehmke had been batted to all corners of Shibe Park, must not be overlooked when the credit for the winning of the championship is allotted. Walberg came in under trying circumstances and allowed only two hits and no runs in five and one-third innings.

The Rube stopped any Chicago aspirations, and this, in the final analysis made it possible for the Athletics to break through in the ninth and win the game and the championship.

INJURIES HIT TEAM FOR FRIDAY'S GAME

HALVORSON AND PAT ANDERSON
SON LOST TO THE SQUAD;
SCHUETZ INELIGIBLE

Tough luck continued to dog the Brainerd high school football team. The St. Cloud Tech-High game last Friday proved a costly one for the locals in that it threw out two regulars from the line-up for the Aitkin game Friday at Aitkin.

Halvorson, who has punted consistently, will be out of the game through an injury to his leg and knee. Pat Anderson will be missing from the ranks with an injured shoulder while Schuetz will be ineligible because of study requirements.

Hautala will be the only regular in the backfield and Coach Warren Kasch must depend on members of the sophomore and reserve squad to carry through.

The game will be witnessed by a large crowd as it is scheduled on one of the days Aitkin county will celebrate the completion of its court house.

Jacks Really Wild Dogs

Jacks are any of several wild dogs in the Old world, especially Canis aureus of southeastern Europe, southern Asia and northern Africa. They are smaller, usually more yellowish and much more cowardly than wolves, and hunt in packs at night. Jackals feed on carrion and small animals including poultry. They can be tamed and by some are believed to be the progenitors of domestic dogs.

Title Only for Wife

It is an anomaly in British civil law that women mayors are not mayoresses. That title is reserved for the wife of a mayor or, in the absence of a wife, for a daughter or any other woman whom the mayor (man or woman) may appoint.

Blue Blood And Red

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Eddie Regan, once a member of a New York gang, has broken away and gone to Virginia, where he befriends Penfield Partridge, who dies and leaves all his possessions to Eddie. Eddie had been in love with Bernice Veressi, "gang girl," but all thought of her is lost when he meets and falls in love with Marian Thorndike. Marian is engaged to Tom Freeman. Freeman and Eddie dislike each other, and Eddie, discouraged, goes to Richmond, where he meets Mike Arno, a former member of the gang, who tries to persuade him to return to New York and Bernice. Eddie refuses and returns to his farm. He goes to dinner at the Thorndike home, and Mr. Thorndike questions him as to his past. Bernice Veressi comes to Eddie's home and informs him she has come to stay. He tells her it is impossible, and finally she agrees to leave. While escorting Bernice to the village, they come face to face with Marian and her father. He takes her to the hotel and returns to the farm.

Now Go On with the Story

CHAPTER XLII.

EDDIE felt something in his throat tighten. Even an old negro like Tobe . . .
"Did she look that bad?"
"No suh—she looked stylish."
"Well, maybe she won't come back Tobe—I don't know whether I have got any friends in the world or not. Maybe you're the nearest thing to a friend I have. I want you to tell the truth—do you think my chances with Miss Marian are ruined? You know these people down here better than I do—"

"Tain't a question of Miss Marian, suh. It's her pappy. Dey is powerful proud people, de Thorndikes. Ah knows dem. Mebbe if dat strange lady never comes back, nuffin unlucky to you gwine happen. But if she comes hanging aroun', you ain't gwine have no moh chance wid Miss Marian den a possum wid a pack o' hounds."
Eddie toyed, aimlessly, with his coffee cup. The voice of the old negro was slow, like the tolling of doom.

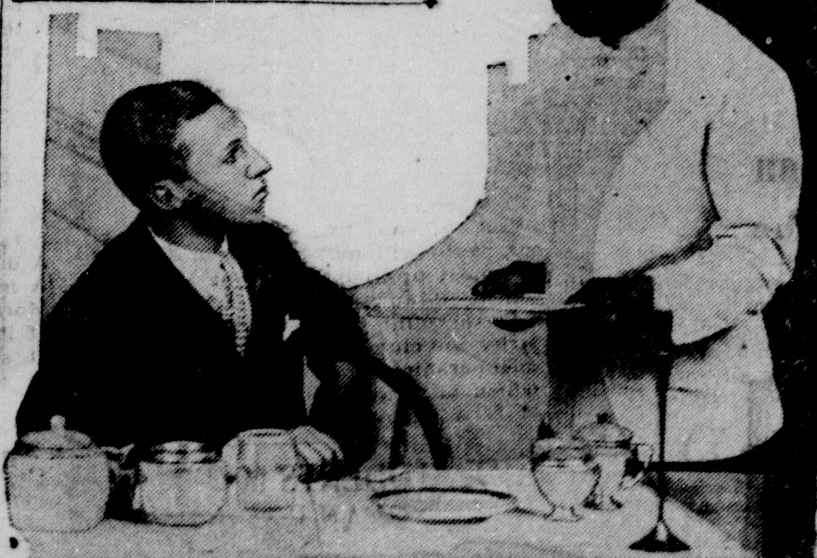

"What do you think I ought to do, Tobe?"

"Whut kin you do?"
The fact of the matter, Eddie decided, was that he had been driven into a corner. No amount of scheming, no diplomacy, could alter the fact. He was mixed up with a woman—an unsavory girl who bore the flash and stamp of New York's half-world.

Within another day or two, the whole country would know that she had come after him. Maybe there were places in the world where such things would have no weight, but here in this rigidly conventional locality, the end of his precarious social standing was in sight.

Let the blight of scandal fall upon him and henceforth he was a Pariah, an outcast—so far, at least, as the Thorndikes—were concerned. And the Thorndikes—Marian—nothing else mattered. If Marian had passed out of his life, then life had no meaning whatever. He was alone, friendless.

in the world. It was no good to think of going back to New York . . . there was no one there. The only person who had tenderness toward him was Bernice Veressi—but Bernice was out. For the rest of it—the farm, the house, the fine old furniture—everything was inanimate, negative. His mind came back to the aged negro still lingering in the dining room. Never before had Eddie noticed how bent, how time-worn was the old fellow. The aged face was a black mask. What thoughts, really, transpired behind these yellowed eyes?

"I want you to tell me the truth, Tobe."

"I want you to tell me the truth, Tobe."

"Yaas, suh."
"I know I'm not the same to you as if I had been born and brought up around here. Maybe you're still sort of suspicious about me. Tell me the truth—are you for me or against me? Do you want Miss Marian to marry me?"

The Negro took a long time before he answered. His face wrinkled—it looked, oddly, as though he were in pain, as though tears might come to his rheumy eyes.

Give me your advice—don't you think I ought to go to Miss Marian and tell her the whole story?"
But this was beyond the range of the Negro.
"Dat," he muttered, hopelessly, "is too deep foh me, suh."
There was nothing to do but to light a cigarette and go out on the sagging veranda. Sitting in a hickory chair with his feet on the railing Eddie tried to reason it all out. The trouble was that he couldn't talk about Bernice to Marian without the appearance of coarseness. How could he tell one girl that another was crazily in love with him? How could he defame Bernice—yet her lack of morality certainly was vital to any understanding of the situation?

SAYS AMERICANS PAY TOO MUCH IN HOSPITALS

IN SOME THE PATIENT WORRIES LESS FACING DEATH THAN PAYING BILLS

HOSPITAL GETS FIRST CHANCE AT PAYMENT, DOCTORS COME NEXT

Chicago, Oct. 15.—(UP)—Fellow surgeons lined up in accord with the stand taken by Dr. Will Mayo of the Mayo Brothers clinic when he told the conference of the American College of Surgeons that Americans have to pay too much to get well in hospitals. They reiterated his contention that in some hospitals the patient facing death worries less than the one facing bills and condemned false pride as a fault of the patient and "supersalesmanship" as a fault of the hospitals. Dr. Stewart R. Roberts, of Atlanta, Ga., whose paper was read before the gathering, declared the hospital usually beats the physician or surgeon to the patient's pocketbook. "If the patient in moderate circumstances, having an income of $5,000 a year, has no third fund and if his illness be long, the hospital gets first chance at what funds there are and the physician gets nothing, or waits indefinitely," Dr. Roberts wrote. "Pride even in sickness," he said, "goes before a medical fall. Emotional anxiety and love for the sick person overwhelms every other consideration and the family does not become practical until the sickness is over and the bills come in."

KANSAS CITY MILK BOYCOTT BECOMES SERIOUS

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 15.—(UP)—The Kansas City milk boycott took a more serious turn today when the Milk Producers' association announced it would attempt to organize all milk producers in this area to join the movement to withhold milk from this market until pasteurizing plants met price increase demands.

Heretofore the boycott has not affecting the public supply, since pasteurizing plants were able to haul in supplies from unorganized producers.

A New Door needed on the Back Porch

The Back Door looks a little neglected, doesn't it? For one thing, the screening has rusted and fallen away in spots. Doesn't keep the flies out. And the delivery boys and the ice man have soiled the woodwork. It does look mussy. It isn't much of a job to put in new netting and to paint the main door and the frame of the other. Let's get busy. What do you say?

Velvet and Satin on Fashion Card

Brown, Yellow, Blue, Among Colors That Are Used in Combinations.

Velvet will be fashionable, but satin is being used by prominent houses to an extent that prophesies almost a satin season, says a fashion writer in the New York Times. Dotted transparent velvet is used with dainty effect in some afternoon gowns, one from Paris being a mellow creation of brown and yellow; another, blue and yellow, with the yellow accentuated by pipings; and still another, a dramatic ensemble in black and gold.

In these gowns the drapery is not over-full, but is graceful and long. One has the skirt lifted above the hipline and finished with a shirred heading in lieu of a girdle. Some satins of high luster and fine quality are printed in floral and conventional patterns and are promised a share of favor for afternoon and informal evening wear. Other fabrics that are expected to be worn for afternoon are the heavier crepes, canton, flat and faille.

These latest styles in separate gowns and ensembles are especially interesting for the many novel ways in which they accomplish the draped lines and the princess effects with chic flaring fullness. A favorite expedient is the use of a separate panel gathered to the foundation skirt—sometimes two or three—covering the sides and back of the gown, the opening being in front. Each of these panels is cut on the bias and rounded, pointed or scalloped at the bottom to fall in folds so as to give the necessary flare, freedom and grace in the ensemble. The low dipping line at the back is still fashionable, but the low side drapery with back or front, or both, shorter is newer and has the endorsement of Paris modistes.

Flower Trimmings Are Now Bunched on Backs

After a few months of banishment from dressmakers' minds, artificial flowers are reinstated in favor, but only providing they are used in bunches and placed in the back or directly on skirts.

When summer styles with the popularity of flower printed materials have passed, flower garlands may make a big comeback as the favored trimmings of evening frocks. Several important Paris style authorities are specializing in the garlanded dresses, utilizing taffeta, faille and satins as the background for vari-colored flowers.

Buttonhole and shoulder flowers have almost ceased to figure in Paris fashions, except as sports accessories when they are made of leather, tweed or short-haired fur.

The favorite flowers for the new garlands are gardenias, mixed field flowers and chignon carnations.

Tulle Freshens Frocks; Liked by French Girls

French debutantes have adopted the mode of a huge pompon of tulle, called a "cabbage," to freshen up their dance frocks.

Some of the rosettes are so large that they reach the top of the ear, forming an aura of soft color. Preferences are for matching colors with pastel shades, flesh or coral pink with black, and bright colors with white. Sometimes there are colored shoes to match the tulle rosette.

Pull-Overs Are Handy When Cool Snap Comes

The pull-overs are so handy and so useful when weather changes occur that it will take a lot to shake their position in fashion. This is especially true at present because of their attractive designs. Many of them have a background of natural colored wool with insets and jacquard designs in silk or silk and wool weaves. Blue and gray are a color combination often seen.

Piles Go Quick

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. Dr. Leonard's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, succeeds, because it relieves this congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Roid has given quick, safe and lasting relief to thousands of Pile sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere sell Hem-Roid with this guarantee.
